

RETROFIT FLOORING IN OFFICES, HOTELS AND HOMES

Use Impervia Flooring when Retrofitting old buildings' Flooring

Impervia flooring is the perfect retrofit floor solution. This can be summed up simply below:

The image below shows old carpet tiles that were fully secure and had been glued down using impact adhesive. The tiles were very hard and the floor was perfectly flat, which meant that the Impervia flooring could be laid directly onto these saving huge costs in labour and time.

The image left is an office in Mayfair London where the client hated the grey tiles.

They wanted a quick solution to refurbish the office and move in within two weeks.

Impervia is perfect because of its acoustic backing and rigid core. It will be cleaner than the tiles which will have been professionally cleaned before fitting the Imperia Flooring.

Because there is no movement in the rigid core it means Impervia can be installed right up to the skirting without the need for any trims. The look will be perfect as if it was the original floor.

<https://www.worktechacademy.com/office-retrofit-or-rebuild-finding-answers-to-the-developers-dilemma/>